

3 June 2020

Dear Colleague,

I am pleased to invite you to be an early user of our new Healthcare Leadership Model App.

The Healthcare Leadership Model App allows you to record observations about the leadership behaviours that you see around you, helping you explore those behaviours using the dimensions of the Healthcare Leadership Model. You can add in your own reflections, save and revisit your entries, set goals and reminders and download a summary pdf report for your programme or portfolio. The app can also be used for recording and reflecting on your own leadership behaviours. It's an ideal tool for students of leadership at any level and will be particularly valuable for those in undergraduate education, postgraduate training or for participants on leadership development programmes.

The Healthcare Leadership Model App has been co-created with stakeholders but is currently in beta so please note that for the remainder of 2020 we will be contacting selected users to ask for their feedback to aid further development and improvement.

Please sign up to the app and 'thank you', in advance, from us for your help with making something that we think is really good, even better.

The Healthcare Leadership Model App is web-based and, although accessible from your desktop, has been optimized for mobile devices. Click here to access and don't forget to save the link to your mobile home screen. For help or to report a bug contact please visit HLM App Beta Feedback.

With best wishes.

Yours,

Tim Swanwick
 Director of Clinical Leadership Development
 People Directorate, NHS England and NHS Improvement

